This version of Jedi Master Yoda has been released individually during the Vintage Collection in February 2011. The figure is based on the appearance of Yoda in Revenge of the Sith. Yoda has 14 articulation points, including a ball neck, 2 sphere shoulders, 2 swivel elbows, 2 swivel wrists, a swivel life, 2 swivel legs, 2 ball knees and 2 ball ankles. This is a lot for a very little figure! Yoda balances very well alone without the help of a stand. There were 4 accessories included with the figure, a green flash, a walking stick, a Jedi bathrobe and a blue lightning. The light fits well into the right hand, but does not fit into the left. Unfortunately, the walking stick does not fit well to both hands, but if the figure is on display, it is possible to "think" the walking stick on the hands. Blue Force-Lightning is a surprisingly good solution for Yoda's left hand. The hand actually connects to the lightning of strength, and it adapts so well, which also with the raised hand, the lightning of force remains attached. The Jedi jacket is a good shape, and it is not cumbersome as it might seem at the beginning. The job work on the Master Yoda is quite well done, in particular the "dirt" or "burn marks" on Jedi's robe looks cool. The rest of the figure is what you would expect, with a brown bodily suit and a green leather tone. The sculpture of the figure is well done with 14 joints, and the upper part is quite convincing as well. All in all, this Yoda of the Vintage collection is a good addition to the formation of Revenge of the Sith Figures. Page 2 The great thing about this figure is that it looks like Yoda in the Animated series The Clone Wars. Only this guarantees the purchase. However, this figure has a rather ugly action feature, where a bullet is on the back of Yoda's left arm, which should then be fired through Yoda under his arm. Needless to say, this totally roves the gaze. Due to the action function, Yoda's left arm is completely static and not movable. Overall is a lower average figure, but has a nice carinity factor for it ... Page 3 The great thing about this figure is that it looks like Yoda in the animated series The Clone Wars. In the prime of his life, the Grand Master could easily challenge and even defeat the Chosen One. So why did you escape the duel with Palpatine at the end of Episode III "Revenge of the Sith"? In the climax of the final film in the prequel trilogy, Yoda confronts the Emperor while Obi-Wan Kenobi heads to Mustafar to take care of his apprentice. This was a significant clash between the bright side of the Force and the dark, as the two opponents represented the epitome of their respective orders. Yoda had prepared for centuries to confront the Sith, and Palpatine had worked for years to carry out his plans. Suffice it to say that parallel duels would determine the fate of the galaxy for years to come. Alas, the newly-anointed Emperor has overpowered Yoda, forcing the Grand Master to leave the scene with Senator Organa. Over the years, many fans wondered how Palpatine could overpower him. And while it's not a definitive answer to that question, the Canon gives us some clues as to what really went through Yoda's mind at those decisive moments. Of course, the most reasonable explanation is what the Emperor himself says before the battle begins. "Your arrogance blinds you, Master Yoda. Now you will experience the full power of the Dark Side!Palpatine announces it before striking his opponent with Lightning Force. In the official novel for Revenge of the Sith, written by Matthew Stover, it is revealed that Yoda suddenly realizes that the Sith have grown stronger since the days of the last war. In fact, he understands that at that point there was no defeat for Palpatine because of its growing strength in the streets of the dark side, not to mention that even the bright side had been weakened by Order 66. Here is an excerpt from the novel that explores Yoda's thoughts at the time: "Finally he saw the truth. This truth: that he, the avatar of light, the supreme master of the Jedi Order, the fiercest, relentless, most powerful enemy the darkness had ever known, did not He had. He never had it. He lost before he started, before he was born. The Sith had changed. They had grown up, adapted, invested a thousand years of intensive study of every aspect not only of the Force, but also of Lore Jedi herself, in preparation for that day. The Sith had rebuilt themselves. They had become new... I They had passed the same millennium trying to re-fight the last war. The new new could not be destroyed by a laser sword; They couldn't be burned by any flashlight. »In the Star Warsà Lore, however, the Twist fits well with the prophecy of the chosen, while Yoda has never been thought to defeat palpatine. This was always the fate of Anakin. Or at least, whoever the living force chose to fulfill, as it was revealed in the rise of Skywalker. Skywalker.
